WAR WITH SPAIN INEVITABLE.

Says a Personal Friend of President McKinley—Doesn't Believe the President is on the Verge of a Mental Break-down.

Cripple Creek, Col. March 23.—In an interview here, Hon. D. S. Stepper, speaker of the lower house of the Ohio legislature, and a personal friend of President McKinley, said:

"I consider war with Spain inevitable. The matter has gone so far that diplomacy can not save it. The struggle will be a bloody one. Cuba will be freed, the United States will get whatever indemnity she has demanded, and that will end the matter."

"The President, being on the verge of a mental breakdown, I do not believe it. I was up in Washington and had a long talk with Mr. McKinley less than two weeks ago, and there was no signs of any weakness on his part. He will not break down."

Liberty or Death.
Havana, via Key West, March 23.—It is now known positively that the negotiations between Gen. Paedo's delegates, Ramirez and Charro, and Gen. Calvo's and other prominent insurgents in which the latter have made what are said to be final offers of practical independence have proved an absolute failure. No particulars have yet been received at the palace here as to the place or the particulars of the meeting, but that the negotiations have failed is shown by the resumption of hostilities.

The insurgents recently captured and destroyed Fort Ochoa, in the district of San Juan Martinez, province of Pinar del Rio. Five of the Spanish garrison were killed and five wounded.

CONGRESS READY FOR ACTION.

War Regarded at Washington as Almost a Certainty and May Come at Any Time.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF THE CABINET YESTERDAY.

Intervention in Behalf of Cuba Said to Have Been Decided Upon by the President at a Very Early Date.

TOMORROW MAY BE THE DAY

When President McKinley Will Send the Inquiry Report To Congress.

MONITORS ORDERED TO PREPARE.

Secretary Long Issues Important Orders—War Preparations Show No Signs of Abatement.

McKINLEY CONSULTING PARTY LEADERS.

Has Been Assured by Democrats of the Unanimous Support of That Party in the Great Crisis.

SPAIN SECRETLY FORTIFYING HAVANA.

Washington, March 23.—President McKinley is very rapidly consummating his plans for immediate action after the sending of the report of the board of inquiry to congress. It is now very probable that the sending of the report to congress will not be delayed until Monday.

The President has been strongly urged to send it in at once and he may do so as early as tomorrow.

Mr. McKinley has today sent for many of the democratic leaders of congress and he has been assured of unanimous support. In fact congress is today a unit on this great question.

Intervention has absolutely been decided upon by the president. The only thing that he is undecided about is the plan. The time even has been settled approximately, and it will but a short time, possibly next week.

Cables from Spain are that she is hurrying up the fortification of Havana, though her plans are all secret. Secretary of the Navy Long has ordered the eight monitors into service.

The Puritan has been ordered to Hampton Roads and Texas to Key West.

Senator Gallinger is today making a speech and is telling the senate of the horrors he saw in Cuba on his recent visit there.

Congress is ripe for action and will permit of no delay on the part of the president.

Washington, March 23.—The recognition of the independence of Cuba at an early date was favored by President McKinley. Secretary of State Sherman, Secretary of the Navy Long, Secretary of War Alger, Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, Postmaster General Gary and Attorney General Griggs at the session of the cabinet yesterday morning.

Against the recognition of independence stood Secretary of the Treasury Gage and Secretary of the Interior Bliss.

The cabinet council was not of unusual duration, but it will go down in history as being the meeting that broke the backbone of the non-intervention policy, and the one which will make Cuba free.

Every member of the president's cabinet family was present. President McKinley informed his official advisers that the Maine was blown up by a mine or torpedo, and the time had arrived when there was left no alternative but intervention. After some discussion, six of the eight members agreed with the president and two—Gage and Bliss—thought there should be no intervention yet, as they knew that would mean war and war should be averted as long as possible.

Secretary Gage favored a plan formulated by him which he thought would settle the Cuban question and prevent war. The plan was to have the insurgents accept free government without independence. Secretary Gage said Spain would withdraw all her troops from Cuba, recall Gen. Blanco and send the fleet of warships away from the island, provided the United States could get the Cubans to accept the plan.

Secretary Gage argued his scheme for some time, but it was the opinion of the cabinet that the insurgents would accept nothing but independence and they thought it was too late to try the plan.

It was decided to send the Maine out of inquiry's report to congress with a message either Monday or Tuesday. Spain will be furnished with a copy also. After waiting for Spain's reply a second message will be sent to congress stating time has arrived when the independence of Cuba should be recognized and asking congress to take steps accordingly.

Secretary Long stated after the cabinet meeting that the report of the court of inquiry would reach Washington Thursday night.

A long dispatch has been sent to Mr. Woodford, at Madrid. It was an explanation of the intention of this government. He was informed that the Cuban question would soon be solved.

Admiral Sigsbee is to be relieved, solely on the ground of his health. The admiral's friends assert that he has asked for relief, and that it is a bitter disappointment for him to be compelled to do so at this time.

Washington, March 23.—(Special telegram to Louisville Post of yesterday.)—House leaders have already begun the retreat before popular opinion.

With a united house and a united senate back of him, it will be only a matter of days now when the president shall take a decisive step which will lead ultimately to the independence of the island of Cuba.

The president and his advisers realize now that intervention by recognition does not necessarily mean Cuban independence, nor is it believed that Spain will make this form of intervention cause for war.

The recognition of independence, however, cannot stand long as a single proposition, but would be followed up by a practical intervention of force based on the flexible Monroe doctrine. Having once recognized the independence of the Cubans this government would undoubtedly follow this step by another wherein Spain would be asked to withdraw her troops from American territory.

Just as France was asked to withdraw her troops from American territory, just as France was asked to withdraw its army from Mexico.

It is understood here today that Speaker Reed's visit to the white house yesterday evening was solely for the purpose of telling the chief executive that congress could not be held in check longer, and that if the independence of Cuba was not recognized at an early date congress would force a more far-reaching measure upon him.

What passed between the president and the speaker, however, is mere rumor, based on conversations of Mr. Reed at a later hour. But as a result of that visit the house leaders have decided to retreat before the popular will. As I wired yesterday,

Mr. Hill informed the speaker that he could no longer hold the committee on foreign affairs in check. This committee is the most conservative body in the house, and is a pretty good political weather cock as far as the feeling in the house goes.

President McKinley said yesterday to a public man who called on him that he had not settled upon any definite line of policy, and would not until the court had reported, but there was just one thing that would be done, that being his determination to send supplies to Cuba, no matter what protest should be made or who objected.

People may be prepared for any surprises from now on. With his eye fixed definitely on the freedom of Cuba, the president will move toward that point. There will be side movements, and sometimes there may be diplomatic delays, but there will be no halt. A fox does not run any the less fast because he runs crooked.

The report will be sent to the committee on foreign affairs and the committee will be asked to withhold action until the president finds out Spain's intention. If Spain refuses to meet the demands of the executive in all matters, the question will then be turned over to congress to handle and the reply will be as positive as it will be vigorous.

Congress now is a unit for the first time since the Cuban question became an issue.

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 23.—As a result of the heavy rains in this section during the past forty-eight hours the rivers are rising rapidly and a flood that will inundate the lowlands is predicted before tomorrow morning. Navigation along the Monongahela has been suspended and the water is now over the banks. The heavier rivers are raging torrent, and factories on its banks have closed down.

MALICIOUS CUTTING.

Is the Grave Charge Against a 13-Year-Old Boy, Willie Ellithorpe—Cut Dan Milliken Very Badly.

Claims It Was an Accident—John Smith, for Alleged Wife Beating—Another John Smith Was Robbed.

William Ellithorpe, aged about 13 years, was charged in the police court this morning with malicious cutting with intent to kill.

His victim is young Dan Milliken, son of Mr. Bailey Milliken, of South Eleventh street, who is dangerously wounded in the breast, the knife penetrating his lungs.

The difficulty occurred yesterday afternoon between a and 6 o'clock, while young Milliken was on his way home from school. When over, Milliken was stabbed as described above.

Ellithorpe was subsequently arrested by Officer Gray and released on bond his father and Mr. Jake B. Ferris becoming his bondsmen.

This morning the case was called, and the boy and his father were to answer. Milliken was unable to appear and by agreement the case was continued until next Monday.

The boy is reported as being dangerously wounded, by the attending physicians, Drs. Reddick and McVee.

Ellithorpe stated to a reporter that some of his companions had pistols hidden in a loft to keep their parents from finding it out, and that young Milliken knew their whereabouts and took them, giving them to him. Ellithorpe. He then accused Ellithorpe of stealing them.

Yesterday afternoon they met and tried to settle their differences by fight. Ellithorpe says he had his knife in his hand, but did not actually stab his antagonist. They fell he claims, and Milliken was underneath, the knife accidentally penetrating his breast.

This afternoon young Milliken was reported much better, with good chances of recovery.

John Smith, of Third and Norton streets, charged with beating his wife, was fined $5 and costs. Mr. Oscar Kain was his attorney.

Mrs. Smith, who wept copiously yesterday on the witness stand, that the case had to be continued, was composed today, and seemed anxious of shielding her husband. He claimed he simply pushed her on the street nearly a block and carried her back home, placing his arm over her mouth so she couldn't scream. She said she was very high-strung, and really did not know what she did. Judge Sanders expressed an individual opinion that the woman did not tell just how much force was used, but placed the case at $5 and costs.

There was another John Smith before the court, but he was colored. He was charged with being drunk and disorderly. There was a wound the right side of his head, and his clothes were wet and covered with mud. His home is Gallipolis, O. He stated that he was knocked down and robbed of $5 last night on South street. He pleaded guilty to being drunk and was fined $1 and costs.

There is one thing about as changeable in Paducah as the weather; that is the streets. A few hours of sunshine can dry them out in a remarkably brief time, and so can a few heavy attacks of Old Man Rain. One day, however, the streets are wet and slushy, and about the most unattractive thing imaginable. The next day, perhaps, they are firm and almost dry, and among the prettiest streets in the world.

Speaking of rain, the latest prognostication in Paducah predicts thirty days more of rain. That is, they predict that the weather will be unsettled with frequent rains, for a month.

Paducah is honored with a visit from two more Mormon elders. They have a perfect right to believe as they choose, and to advocate their doctrine as long as they do not conflict with good government and the rights of others. Mormon leaders have been here before, however, and have been denied the use of the school houses in the county in which to hold their meetings. These new ones hope to make a house to house canvass and make converts to their faith. If any Mormon ever made a convert in this section, no record was made of it.

March 27 has been chosen as prison Sunday. It is a day when all religious congregations give on this day a consideration toward the objects for which the prison association was founded. Paducah churches will doubtless observe it.

Yesterday, according to the best authorities, marked the time of the last days and nights. The sun rose at 6 o'clock a.m. and set at 6 o'clock p.m. For a week or more hereafter the lengthening of the days will be so slight as to be imperceptible. Therefore the days will grow steadily longer.

Business failures in the United States last week numbered 298, against 216 the same week a year ago. In Canada last week there were twenty-seven failures, compared with fifty last year. Evidently these are prosperous times.

ENDS COLLINS ACQUITTED.

Jury Returned a Verdict of Not Guilty Yesterday Afternoon.

Celebrated Murder Case at Benton Comes to an End.

The case of the commonwealth against Ends Collins for the murder of William Hampton, near Benton, which was called in the Benton circuit court Saturday morning, both sides after considerable consultation with witnesses, announcing ready for trial was ended yesterday. Collins being acquitted.

There was some little trouble in getting a jury. The regular panel was exhausted and only obtained about six. The balance of the jury was then made up from the bystanders, and about 2 o'clock Saturday evening they commenced to examine witnesses.

A great deal of the evidence was excluded, which greatly shortened the case. As stated in yesterday's issue, the jury took the case to the afternoon session.

At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the jury returned a verdict of not guilty and the defendant was released.

As a remembered, he killed William Hampton at a barbecue last summer.

TROUBLE IN MARSHALL.

One Man Tells Another to Wind Up Business.

For He Intends to Kill Him He Declares.

There has been considerable excitement prevailing in the neighborhood of Marshall for the last few days over what promises to be a case of murder.

Mr. Anderson, who lives in Benton, and Mr. Anderson, who lives in Marshall, were the two men who were the cause of the excitement.

Mr. Anderson, who lives in Benton, told him that he had a business that needed his attention, but that he had better get it straightened out, that he had better get it straightened out, that he had better get it straightened out.

Mr. Anderson came to town Saturday and got permission to carry concealed weapons, so that he could defend himself. We are informed that Anderson asked for permission to carry a gun and that was refused.

We have been unable to ascertain the cause of the difficulty. It is thought by those who are acquainted with both parties that it will result in a killing. It is to be hoped that their passions will subside and that their better judgment will become the dominant power in deciding their actions and thereby a tragedy averted.

ROMANTIC MEETING

Of a Paducah Insurance Man and a Marshall County Girl.

It is Not Known Whether or Not a Marriage Will Result.

Quite a romantic meeting took place in the little village of Coy, this county, Sunday, between Mr. E. L. Cherry, an insurance man of Paducah, and Miss Lola Roland of Marshall County. Mr. Cherry, who is a single man, has been in the county for some time, while they had never met or seen each other, says the Benton Star.

About a week ago Miss Lola came down to Coy to visit friends.

Mr. Cherry learned of this fact, and on last Sunday came over to Benton, got a horse and buggy and went down to see her.

Our informant didn't say whether it would result in a marriage or not.

THE NEGRO.

By His Music and Industry Barred Immigrant Labor in the South

While the northern states are still debating the merits of the proposed immigration law, the southern states are all too busy with the problem of the colored man. The Senator Bruce, who has years ago reported the widow and daughter of his former master, who was a slave in Virginia. They have been entirely dependent upon his benevolence, and although there was no legal claim what ever they had, created in with great kindness when he was alive. He had acquired the rudiments of an education from the tutor of his master's son, and felt a gratitude that expressed itself in the manner when he learned that they were in needy circumstances. Washington telegram to the Chicago Record.

THE NEXT.

The next lecture of the series will be next Friday evening, and so they say it has come our turn to talk. They say we are to face an audience in the twilight and the dawn at the C. W. K. church. Well, maybe we were anything extra at talking, extra in the way of a manner here, extra in the way of a manner here, extra in the way of a manner here.

The funeral of Mrs. McClure, who died Monday, took place this afternoon at the Washington street church. It was attended by a large crowd of growing friends of the deceased and a number of the above named church, who in fact were the staves over all that was mortal of her remains were laid to rest in Grove cemetery.
